The “Sustainable Corporations Colloquia” Series is intended to complement the “Law of ‘Sustainable’ Corporations” Course, taught at University of Padova School of Law by Visiting Professor Alan Palmiter (Professor of Law at Wake Forest University School of Law, NC, USA) by offering different views – presented by Academics and Experts of the field – on how the “sustainability” paradigm, as increasingly used in different areas of Business Law (insolvency law, banking, financial and securities laws, business crime law), shall affect the way we traditionally intend the legal structure, purposes and governance of companies and their interactions with globalized markets and the society at large.

Sustainable Corporations Colloquia Scientific Committee:

Prof. Alan R. PALMITER (WFU Law); Prof. Maurizio BIANCHINI (Padova University School of Law)

Sustainable Corporations Colloquia CSR Blog Discussant: Stephen HOLDEN, Postgraduate Researcher and PhD Candidate, Coventry University School of Law; CSR Blog Contributor
